POLICY STATEMENT<sup>1</sup>

1. The New Orleans Police Department (NOPD) shall promote and strengthen community partnerships, work constructively with the community, ensure collaborative problem solving, ensure ethical and bias-free policing, and work to increase community confidence in the Department.
2. The New Orleans Police Department will effectively engage the community in collaborative problem solving. NOPD will partner with residents and stakeholders to identify and solve problems that contribute to crime, fear of crime and quality of life problems in communities. The Department is committed to proactively solving problems as well as reacting to their harmful consequences.
3. The mission of the New Orleans Police Department is to provide professional police services to the public to prevent crime, maintain order and protect life and property. NOPD is committed to the philosophy and practice of community problem-oriented policing as a means to inform organizational decisions, shape policies, identify training needs, and prioritize crime fighting by engaging each neighborhood and community organization in collaborative problem-solving partnerships. Community problem-oriented policing, and community policing and engagement are critical methods toward achieving NOPD's mission.
4. The New Orleans Police Department will collaborate with community stakeholders and partners on policing and engagement efforts. The Department encourages its members to develop problem solving partnerships with community residents.
5. NOPD recognizes that it serves many diverse communities. Communities arise not only from shared geography but also social ties, common perspectives, and shared circumstances (for example, the LGBTQ or LEP community). NOPD shall seek to engage all communities in its community policing and engagement efforts.
6. NOPD's recruitment efforts shall focus on hiring officers who can build relationships and work collaboratively with all communities.

DEFINITIONS<sup>2</sup>

Community Engagement—Activities that foster positive interactions between citizens and officers, employ community policing ideals, create opportunities for constructive exchanges, and foster substantive collaboration with the community, while enhancing trust and legitimacy.

Community Liaison Officer (CLO) —The CLO engages in problem identification and problem-solving activities with community members around the community's priorities and works proactively with other City departments to address quality of life issues. CLOs also work with platoon officers in problem identification and problem-solving. CLOs will not be assigned to answer calls for service absent exigent circumstances.

Community Partnerships — Collaborative problem-solving activities and engagement activities between the Department and the individuals and organizations the Department serves to develop solutions to problems and increase trust in police.

Community Policing—A philosophy and operational strategy that promotes organizational practices that support the systematic use of partnerships and problem-solving techniques to work with the community to address the immediate conditions that give rise to public-safety issues such as crime, social disorder and fear of crime.

Community Policing Plan—A district-specific blueprint of collaborative partnerships with the community. The Community Policing Plan addresses the unique needs of the communities serviced in each District. Each district's Commander is responsible for the development of the plan.

Community Policing Signals—Community policing signals allow the Department to document specific tasks for proactive and community policing. The signals are Area Check, Business Check, Directed Patrol, Residence Check, Quality of Life, and Walking Beats. When dispatched on community policing signals, officers will employ procedural justice techniques.

Area Check—Officers will utilize the area check signal when patrolling an area within the District that has been pre-determined as an important area either by the community or the Department.

Business Check—Officers will utilize the business check signal to engage occupants at a business within the District.

Directed Patrol—Officers will utilize the directed patrol signal to execute a focused collaborative problem-solving, departmental problem-solving, or community policing and engagement in the targeted area.

Residence Check—Officers will utilize the residence check signal when the officers physically exit the patrol car and engage occupants at a specific residence absent a call-for-service.

Quality of Life—Officers will utilize the quality of life signal when responding to any type of quality of life problem.

Walking Beat—Officers will utilize the walking beat signal while executing a defined and assigned walking beat.

New Orleans Neighborhood Police Anti-Crime Council (NONPACC)—NONPACC is a partnership amongst the community, district commanders, and officers to create conversations, identify problems, and devise solutions. Members of the public voice their concerns directly to the District Commander during face-to-face meetings.

Police Community Advisory Board (PCAB)—A board consisting of five to seven citizen volunteers from their respective police districts. PCAB members serve a two-year term and meet quarterly to address community issues. The City's Office of Neighborhood Engagement coordinates the application and selection process for PCAB volunteers. The Superintendent has final approval on the selection of members to serve on PCABs.

Problem—Something that concerns or causes harm to citizens, not just the police. A problem generally involves repeat incidents occurring in a community with related characteristics (time, place, behavior, victim(s), offender(s)) that concern the community.

Problem-Oriented Policing—A proactive problem-solving approach that uses the SARA model to focus on proactive solutions, specific crime problems and achieving crime and fear reduction results. The problems should be those that the community recognizes as important.

Procedural Justice—Procedural justice refers to the idea of fairness in the processes that resolve disputes and allocate resources and specifically how the characteristics of police-community interactions shape the public's trust of the police. Procedural justice speaks to four principles, often referred to as the four pillars:

- (a) Fairness in the processes
- (b) Transparency in actions
- (c) Opportunities for voice
- (d) Impartiality in decision making

Scanning, Analysis, Response, Assessment (SARA) Model—An approach wherein the community and the department work together to scan for problems, analyze information, respond through implemented strategies, and assess the effectiveness of implemented strategies.

FINDINGS

Per Consent Decree ¶448(c), the Department shall provide collection and analysis of community engagement including the number and variety of community partnerships, including particular partnerships with youth.

In 2018, the NOPD partnered with 252 organizations. NOPD has initiated partnerships with community groups, youth partnerships, school partnerships, advocate groups, and other groups.

The purpose of the partnerships is to engage with the community and youth and to problem-solve with the community to address crime and quality of life issues. Many partnership activities listed below can be reviewed on Nopdnews.com, NOPD's YouTube page, or NOPD's District Facebook pages.

A. COMMUNITY GROUPS

Community groups continue to partner with the New Orleans Police Department to solve community problems and build lasting relationships. See the community group partnerships below.

CITYWIDE

1. New Orleans Neighborhood Police Anti-Crime Council (NONPACC) Meetings: The NONPACC meeting is held monthly, facilitating conversation and providing a forum for residents to voice their concerns directly to the District Commander and other key NOPD personnel. In particular, the District Commander presents key activities and information related to crime prevention and community policing in order to receive feedback and additional information from the community.
2. Police Community Advisory Board (PCAB) Meetings: Each District is assisted by a Police Community Advisory Board (PCAB). The PCAB consists of five to seven members who are citizen volunteers from their respective police districts. PCAB members serve a two-year term and meet quarterly to address crime and quality of life issues. In 2018, the PCABs continued to host quarterly meetings to problem-solve with NOPD leaders. PCABs provide written recommendations to NOPD Commanders.

3. On July 5, 2018, Team NOPD took on Team NOFD during the second annual Master P Celebrity Basketball Game at Xavier University. Team NOPD consisted of officers from various districts. The event provided an opportunity to engage with the community in a non-traditional setting.
4. In July 2018, some of NOPD's female officers decided to join in on the law enforcement lip-sync challenge with the song 'Run the World (Girls)' by Beyoncé. The NOPD is proud of the nearly 300 female officers currently serving the City of New Orleans. Special thanks go out to Mardi Gras World and Kathryn Kimery for assisting the NOPD Public Affairs Team in putting the video together.
5. On October 3, 2018, the NOPD participated in National Coffee with a Cop Day, which is a simple but effective method of bringing police and communities together. Coffee with a Cop Day was an opportunity for the community to meet the men and women of NOPD. Community members were encouraged to ask questions about crime or quality of life issues, share concerns, or just to get to know the officers working every day to make New Orleans safer.
6. On October 30, 2018, Superintendent Harrison invited officers from each district to participate in a press conference notifying the community that each police station will be issuing candy on Halloween night. He also highlighted the importance of checking candy before eating it. Safety tips were also provided to both parents and children in effort to make the holiday safe for all. On October 31, 2018, the candy was given to trick or treaters who visited the police stations on Halloween night.

Several citizens accepted and agreed to seek refuge at the shelter.
135. On September 18, 2018, the Eighth District participated in the ribbon cutting ceremony for the Low Barrier Shelter. The Shelter is filled to capacity with 105 persons officially housed.
136. The Eighth District continues to partner with the Law Enforcement Assisted Diversion (LEAD) program. The LEAD program provides diversion instead of jail time for low level offenses. Program participants are partnered with social services.

B. YOUTH PARTNERSHIPS

The Department has continued to bolster its youth engagement efforts. NOPD continues to conduct youth dialogues at various schools throughout the city where students and police meet to discuss methods to build relationships. In addition to the implementation of many district-specific youth-police dialogues, the Department has also formed a Youth Advisory Council. The Youth Advisory Council is a group of high school students who represent the city's young people in relating information and ideas to police. Another recent youth initiative is the Department's new Cadet Program. The Cadet Program is comprised of young individuals who are interested in pursuing a career in Law Enforcement and are between the ages of 17-20 years of age.

CITYWIDE

1. In January 2018, Sergeant Gregory Johnson and Officer James Caire, who have been featured on national outlets for their work and service on and off the job, were contacted by a viewer who offered to purchase brand new equipment for their band students at McDonogh 35 Senior High School, right before the peak of Mardi Gras season. Both officers, who are also brothers, have volunteered their time for the last three to five years teaching students who play percussion instruments and participate in the school's color guard team. The anonymous donor purchased a total of 20 gold helmets and 32 drum heads for members of the band. The brothers were featured on the CNN Special: Beyond the Call of Duty and the NBC Nightly News with Lester Holt.
2. Youth Advisory Council: The Superintendent's Youth Advisory Council is designed to foster dialogue and create a stronger relationship between the City's youth and the NOPD. Members of the YAC facilitate meetings with peers to identify issues and craft solutions together. They meet with the Superintendent periodically, discussing issues related to the city's youth, interactions between youth and police and projects and solutions to address identified issues. On March 20, 2018, Superintendent Harrison and members of the NOPD held a youth-police dialogue with the YAC at Benjamin Franklin High School.
3. CADET Program: The New Orleans Police Department created the CADET program in June 2017. The CADET program focuses on youth who are interested in pursuing a career in Law Enforcement and are between 17-20 years of age. The participants receive educational training on law enforcement for 10 weeks. Once the CADETs graduate, they are paired with police districts in order to assist in administrative capabilities until they are eligible to join the police force. The goal is to build relationships with youth who are too young to join the police department and offer a recruitment track for once they become of age.
4. GW Fins Little Free Libraries: GW Fins reached out to NOPD for partnership in a youth engagement program; they provided little free library structures inside of the 1st, 3rd and 6th District stations. The program consists of three parts: (1) Officers in the 1st, 3rd and 6th Districts will read books to students at schools in their respective districts; (2) GW Fins will supply books for officers' police vehicles in the 1st, 3rd and 6th districts, to be given to kids on critical scenes/for community policing; and (3) little free library structures with books placed in the 1st, 3rd and 6th District Stations.
5. Red Nose Day Celebration with NOPD and Walgreens: NOPD Officers across the department participated. Second District Officers rocked red noses with the kids at KIPP Believe Primary on May 24, 2018. The fundraiser launched in 2015 is dedicated to ending child poverty, both in the U.S. and in some of the poorest communities in the world.
6. In June 2018, NOPD Officers participated in the annual Pride parade and festivities.
7. On July 1, 2018, Superintendent Harrison and members of the NOPD participated in the 8th annual Stop the Violence Rally at AL Davis Park.
8. On October 14, 2018, members of the NOPD, in partnership with the Mayor's Office, participated in a flag football game with youth from Brothers at Peace at Joe Brown Football Stadium. The event featured free food and a dialogue for better understanding between the police and youth.
9. On November 30, 2018, members of the NOPD participated in Kids Day at the Orleans Parish Communications District. The NOPD joined other area law enforcement agencies and outreach organizations for the Orleans Parish Communications District's Annual 9-1-1 Children's Day at the Chief Warren E. McDaniel's Center. 9-1-1 Children's Day was developed to teach children the importance of knowing when and how to dial 9-1-1 using a hands-on, interactive approach.

10. On December 16, 2018, the NOPD Education and Training Division partnered with local businesses to make Christmas special for thousands of inner-city kids by hosting the 'Big Christmas Toy Drive'. The event was held inside of the Mercedes Benz Superdome. The NOPD collaborated with Raynell Steward with Crayon Case Cosmetics, Jesseca Dupart with Kaleidoscope Hair Products and The United Way of Southeast Louisiana to donate over 4,000 toys to children in efforts to set the Guinness World Record of the most toys given away in 60 minutes.

FOURTH DISTRICT

20. In April 2018, in partnership with community members and organizations, the NOPD collected more than 100 dresses for 60 junior and senior high school girls to choose from for their prom this year. NOPD Fourth District Officer Qiana Lewis first started collecting dresses in 2017 with the help of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Omicron Nu Zeta Chapter, where she provided 25 high school seniors from Algiers Charter Technological Academy with prom dresses. This year, Officer Lewis partnered with local entrepreneurs, entertainers, Senator Troy Carter and NOPD school resource officers to expand the drive and seek donations from the community. Because of those efforts and partnerships, the NOPD was able to provide dresses for girls attending 10 different schools in the state and host an event fashion show at the Alice Harte Charter School. 60 girls not only received a free prom dress, but they were also given the option to get their hair and make-up done by volunteered stylists and artists. Students were also given the opportunity to hit the runway and show off their gowns to their family and friends in attendance. During the event, Superintendent Harrison and Senator Carter also shared words of motivation and encouragement to the students. The fashion event was sponsored by The New Orleans Police Department, Carter, iHeart Media, InspireNOLA Charter Schools, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., Anointed Cutts by Sam and Face by Jiya Janae.

The Department continues to partner with community advocate groups and organizations to increase community trust and solve community problems. Advocate groups are groups that have a social mission to improve the community. Advocate group partnerships are listed below.

1. Music and Culture Coalition of New Orleans (MaCCNO) partnership: MaCCNO is a nonprofit organization that advocates for musicians' rights in New Orleans. Eighth District Commander Gernon and Community Liaison Officer Valentino partnered with MaCCNO to educate French Quarter street musicians on ordinances concerning street musicians and to help address the issues of the music and cultural community in the area.
2. Family Justice Center: The NOPD has partnered with the New Orleans Family Justice Center to provide a "one-stop-resource" to victims of sexual and domestic crimes. The NOPD Special Victims and Domestic Violence Units are housed at the location, along with attorneys, social workers, and victim advocates. All of the partners can work proactively in close quarters to assist victims of sexual and domestic crimes.

E. NOPD PARTNERSHIPS

The New Orleans Police Department initiates many partnerships with the community. Below are some of the NOPD-initiated partnerships.

1. Public Safety Partnership: NOPD participates in the DOJ's Public Safety Partnership designed to leverage and align Federal Law Enforcement involvement in addressing violent crime. As part of NOPD's effort, NOPD has identified target areas impacted by gun violence and is focusing their efforts in two primary areas: Central City (Sixth District) and along the St. Bernard corridor in the First and Fifth Districts. Community policing plays an essential role in the strategy. First, patrol officers are directed to spend any unallocated time in the target area to enhance police presence and conduct area checks. Second, the community liaison officers will conduct residence checks after residential burglaries in the block around the area of the incident. Third, the Reserve Unit will be deployed monthly to conduct walking beats in the area. Finally, officers will be assigned "Park and Walk" calls for service in which they are on dedicated calls designed to get out of the car and walk the beat.
2. SafeCam Platinum: The NOPD, New Orleans Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness (NOHSEP) and the New Orleans Police and Justice Foundation (NOPJF) encouraged residents and business owners to participate in the SafeCam Platinum program, which connects private, public-facing security cameras with the City's Real-Time Crime Center (RTCC). Managed by the NOPJF, SafeCam Platinum builds on the existing SafeCam NOLA registry program that provides a list of privately-owned cameras and their locations to the NOPD. Now with the Platinum program, residents and business owners have the option to install exterior, public-facing cameras that share footage directly with the RTCC. That means that when a 9-1-1 call for service is made, cameras near the incident—including both City-owned cameras and SafeCam Platinum cameras—are automatically identified, alerting RTCC technicians to communicate what they see on the scene directly with the responding public safety personnel.
3. Partnering with City Agencies: The NOPD continues to utilize a holistic approach for aligning community policing efforts where crime is occurring, as well as partnering with City government to address issues in neighborhoods that have a direct influence on crime or the perception of crime. This method guides the NOPD on how to utilize community policing ideals, create opportunities for substantive engagement with the community and substantive collaboration with the community. A pilot program to address quality of life issues that lend to crime and disorder began in the Hardin Park (5th District) and Hoffman Triangle (6th District) neighborhoods.
4. Police and Community Mediation: The NOPD's goal in participating in a mediation process is to increase the level of trust between the Department and the community at large. Mediation provides NOPD employees with a mechanism to resolve complaints outside the investigation process.
5. Victim Witness Unit: The Consent Decree requires immediate and ongoing support to families of victims of homicides and other serious crimes [Consent Decree ¶227]. The Victim Witness Assistance Unit provides the following assistance: Safety Planning, Victim Advocacy, Crisis Intervention, Crime Victims Reparations, Grief and Trauma Counseling, Community Resource, Referrals, Case Update Information and Information on the Criminal Justice Process.

6. Community Policing Plans: The Department's every-day community policing and engagement are guided by each district's community policing plans. The Plans are a district-specific collaborative partnership with the community. Monthly updates are posted online and presented monthly at each District's NONPACC meeting. To view the Community Policing Plans and extensive monthly updates by district, visit nopdnews.com.
7. Interfaith Committee Meeting: Superintendent Harrison met quarterly with a group of local pastors to discuss policing issues and community relations.
8. In January 2018, members of the NOPD, City officials and the community participated in the Annual Memorial March in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.
9. On June 2, 2018, members of the NOPD participated in the Love and Law Basketball Tournament in which members of the NOPD played a friendly game of basketball against members of City of Love Church. The event included other activities for officers to engage with the community.
10. In August 2018, the NOPD added three certified social workers to support victims of crime in the Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Districts. The social workers work directly in the districts to provide victim advocacy, crisis intervention, supportive counseling, referrals, and information on the criminal justice process for victims. They also help facilitate communication between victims of crime and the assigned detectives. The addition also frees up time for district officers so they can concentrate more on preventing and investigating crimes. The advocates will not respond to crime scenes but work during normal business hours in the three districts and are available for walk-in victims seeking services.
11. On September 11, 2018, the NOPD participated in the Battle of the Badges Blood Drive with the NOFD at the WDSU news station, in honor of the first responders who lost their lives on 9/11.
12. In October 2018, the NOPD showed support for Breast Cancer Awareness Month by wearing pink badges throughout the month.
13. On October 3, 2018, the NOPD in partnership with the Mayor's Office, the Office of Criminal Justice Coordination and local businesses held a Coffee with Cops event in every district. Coffee with Cops is designed to bring together police officers and the communities they serve.
14. On October 16, 2018, the NOPD celebrated National Night Out Against Crime in New Orleans with nearly 200 parties in neighborhoods citywide. Mayor Cantrell, Superintendent Harrison and other City officials kicked off the 35th Annual Kelly Marrione Night Out Against Crime at AL Davis Park. Night Out Against Crime brings together citizens, law enforcement agencies, civic groups, businesses, neighborhood organizations and local officials to raise crime prevention awareness, reduce crime and increase the support of local, state and federal law enforcement.
15. On November 14, 2018, the NOPD and Hancock Whitney presented the Mounted Police and Sheriff's Department Soccer Games, at the NOPD Mounted Stables. The Angola Penitentiary once provided more than 75 percent of the horses used by the New Orleans Mounted Patrol, but that program has closed, denying the NOPD its only true source of quality police horses. Since then, the NOPD has started its own breeding program to ensure a self-maintained source of police horses. In order to maintain the breeding program, the NOPD partnered with Hancock Whitney to host the Mounted Soccer Games, in efforts to raise money to support the current Mounted Unit with special presentations from the NOPD K-9 Unit in between games. In addition, there was an NOPD District Chili Cook-off. Participants had an opportunity to purchase samples of some homemade chili using recipes from officers at the various districts and divisions. This family event was open to the public, with proceeds benefiting the NOPD's Born and Bred Program.

16. On December 15, 2018, the NOPD partnered with the Office of Neighborhood Engagement to provide an orientation and training session for Police Community Advisory Board (PCAB) members. This training was centered on helping PCAB members understand their role.

COMMUNITY POLICING PLAN DATA

NOPD continued to update community policing and engagement efforts in 2018. NOPD tracks implementation of each district's initiatives to address community concerns. The Department will continue to reach out to a broad cross-section of community stakeholders to reassess community priorities and continually update each district's Community Policing Program to reflect current community sentiments. In 2018, NOPD solicited community feedback to determine the top community concerns and sentiments in each District and created district-specific Community Policing Plans based on the responses. These Community Policing Plans address the priorities listed below. To view the existing data for the Community Policing Plans, please visit nopdnews.com.

FIRST DISTRICT

The First District's priorities include the following: Armed Robbery, Narcotics and Prostitution.

- Armed Robbery: First District Officers proactively patrolled zones L and M in the First District. The proactive patrols were captured through data and the number of times a unit was dispatched to highlighted zones.
- Narcotics: The First District concentrated on the narcotics trade while partnering with our Federal partners and Narcotics Unit to combat the narcotics issues within the district.
- Prostitution: The First District has given a number of overtime hours to Major Case Narcotics to enforce prostitution violations and perpetrators especially along the North Claiborne corridor.

SECOND DISTRICT

The Second District's priorities include the following: Attendance at Community Meetings, Walking Beats and Youth-Police Dialogues.

- Attendance at Community Meetings: The Second District Commander and Community Liaison Officer increased attendance at community meetings and neighborhood association meetings within the district.
- Walking Beat: The Second District Officers increased police visibility by deploying officers to conduct walking beats in designated areas, hot spots, and district zones. Hot spots are locations within an area where a specified violation or activity occurs at a higher rate than other locations in the district.
- Youth-Police Dialogues: Second District Officers developed district level police youth dialogue programs within the district schools and youth organizations.

THIRD DISTRICT

The Third District's priorities include the following: Address Violent Crime, Community and Youth Engagement and Social Media Presence.

- Address Violent Crime: The Third District will assign officers to proactive area patrols of violent crime hot spots and capture CAD data based on GPS coordinates when directed patrol signal is initiated in the District.
- Community and Youth Engagement: The Third District will announce the Community Liaison who will conduct NONPACC meetings, the Community Liaison will attend at least three monthly community meetings and keep the community abreast on crime trends for the district and address community concerns alike, and twice a month, officers will have breakfast, lunch or visit with kids to build trust, demonstrate friendliness, conduct youth-police dialogues, allowing the youth to address major concerns to the officers.
- Social Media Presence: Officers will document activities and send to the Public Information Office to be posted as well as live stream all weekly MAX meetings.

FOURTH DISTRICT

The Fourth District's priorities include the following: Narcotics Enforcement, Traffic Enforcement and Youth Engagement.

- Narcotics Enforcement: Fourth District Officers displayed an increased presence in designated areas to control narcotics activity.
- Traffic Enforcement: The Fourth District dispatched directed patrols and deployed traffic enforcement vehicles to defined intersections.
- Youth Engagement: The Fourth District School Resource Officer developed a district level police-youth dialogue program with district schools. The School Resource Officer reported outcomes of youth dialogues and included school and district participants.

FIFTH DISTRICT

The Fifth District's priorities include the following: Community Partnerships, Directed Patrols and Safe Spaces for Children.

- Community Partnerships: The Community Liaison Officer (CLO) fostered current partnerships with Daughters of Charity, Rock of Ages Church, Police Community Advisory Board and the Seventh Ward Neighborhood Association by: encouraging officers to attend public meetings held by the organizations, meeting with leaders of each organization to identifying current needs and providing monthly updates on partnership progress with each organization.
- Directed Patrols: The Fifth District increased visibility in the violent crime "hot spots". The Fifth District partnered with local violence reduction organizations on strategies to diminish persons and property crimes in the district.
- Safe Spaces for Children: The Fifth District prioritized safe spaces for children, specifically parks and playgrounds by directing a minimum of three signal 22As (area checks) each day at Hardin Park and maintaining a 24-hour surveillance at specified locations where children and community members gather.

SIXTH DISTRICT

The Sixth District's priorities include the following: City Agency Invitations, Walking Beat and Youth-Police Dialogues.

- City Agency Invitations: The Sixth District invited various city agencies to each New Orleans Neighborhood Police Anti-Crime Council (NONPACC) meeting to discuss Quality of Life Issues. All agencies that participated were documented.
- Walking Beat: The Sixth District conducted Park and Walks. Officers parked vehicles and conducted walking beats in the area immediately surrounding it. Park and Walks were documented by the Community Policing Signal 22W (walking beat).
- Youth-Police Dialogues: The Sixth District hosted monthly Youth-Police Dialogues in schools.

SEVENTH DISTRICT

The Seventh District's priorities include the following: Community Outreach and Relationships with Youth.

- Community Outreach: The Seventh District expanded community outreach by enhancing social media presence. Information on social media was updated at least once a week.
- Relationships with Youth: The Seventh District improved relationships with the youth by collaborating with schools in the district. Multiple meetings and assemblies were conducted on a regular basis throughout the year.

EIGHTH DISTRICT

The Eighth District's priorities include the following: Aggressive Panhandling and Solicitation, Homeless Assistance and Ordinance Enforcement.

- Aggressive Panhandling and Solicitation: The Eighth District improved vagrancy, aggressive panhandling and aggressive solicitation through partnerships with many agencies and organizations.
- Homeless Assistance: The Eighth District mitigated homelessness by addressing root causes of homelessness. The district dispatched the Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) to respond to calls concerning vagrancy and homelessness. Throughout the year, the district engaged in collaborative problem-solving meetings with the Health Department, the Mayor's Office, Sanitation, and other policy advisors on both short-term and long-term solutions to homelessness.
- Ordinance Enforcement: The Eighth District enforced ordinances in the district by conducting sound checks and business checks.

COMMUNITY POLICING SIGNALS

NOPD uses Community Policing signals to capture proactive problem-solving activities, as well as quality of life activities, in an efficient, geo-coded, time-stamped manner. NOPD can track its community policing activities and analyze the impacts of those efforts. The community policing signals include:

Area Check (22A)—Officers utilize the area check signal when patrolling an area within the District that has been pre-determined as an important patrol area either by the community or the Department.

Business Check (22B)—Officers utilize the business check signal when they engage occupants at business within the District.

Directed Patrol (22D)—Officers utilize the directed patrol signal when they execute a specific mission in targeted area.

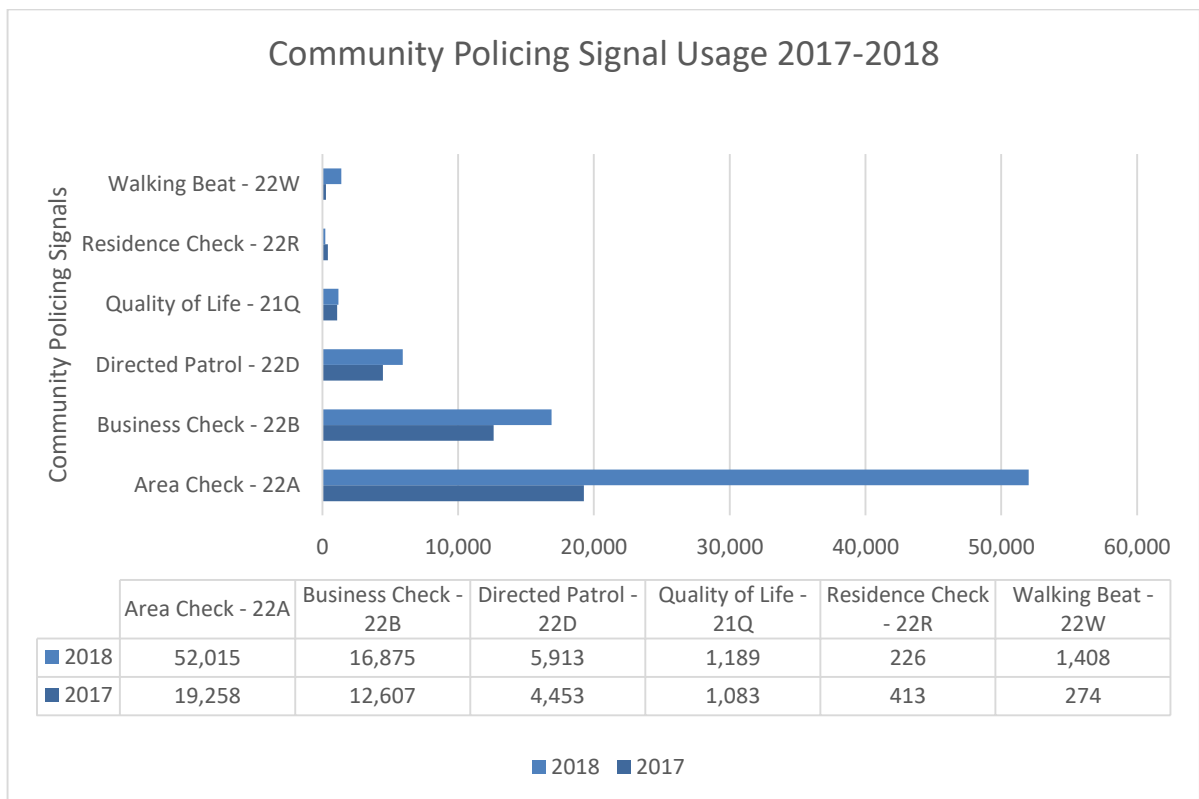

Quality of Life (21Q)—Officers use the quality of life signal when they respond to quality of life issues identified by the community or the Department.

Residence Check (22R)—Officers utilize the residence check signal when the officers physically exit the patrol car and engage occupants at the residence absent a call-for-service.

Walking Beat (22W)—Officers utilize the walking beat signal while executing a defined and assigned walking beat.

NOPD uses community policing signals to document both its response to district Community Policing Plans and its broader community policing activities. NOPD increased usage of community policing signals from 38,088 (2017) to 77,626 (2018).

The chart below breaks down NOPD's use of these signals in 2017 and 2018:

OBSTACLES AND RECOMMENDATIONS

NOPD is working to develop additional tracking mechanisms for documenting community policing activities more consistently and thoroughly. Improving the collection of community engagement and policing data, reporting on this data in internal and external meetings, and utilizing this data to improve our community engagement and policing are critical goals for NOPD in 2018 as we strive to improve our partnerships with the community and our community engagement efforts.
