School-Justice Partnership Conversation & Training Feb. 27th & 28th

Over the past two years, Juvenile Court has seen a 16% increase in the number of children being arrested for school-based minor offenses. School-safety is important and yet many schools have limited resources and options for dealing with safety issues that may involve adolescent behaviors.

When the options used to address issues involving adolescent behaviors increasingly become a school-based arrest, it can and does intensify the school-to-prison pipeline.

This is a problem we can address together. The Orleans Parish Juvenile Court invites you to a 1 and ½ day Conversation & Training session on Dismantling the School-to-Prison Pipeline through the development of a School-Justice Partnership. We ask that you please plan to join us in continuing the work that many of you may have been part of that addressed the discipline code and expulsion in the prior decade(s).

The School-Justice Partnership Conversation & Training is an opportunity for key stakeholders and community organizations to come together with the goal of co-creating a pathway for developing a partnership that will aid us in reducing the number of school-based arrests.

Judge Steven Teske, the architect of the School-Justice Partnership model, and his team of experts will be facilitating the conversation & training. Judge Teske has successfully worked with over 39 states across the country to develop a model for reducing school-based arrests.
